

How to use this space

Polak Y03-04

Pilot

During the 2026/2027 academic year, we are testing different future learning spaces. In this room, we are focusing on the theme of concentration. We aim to facilitate focused studying or working in silence with individual spaces.

Design

In this space, you will find three wall-mounted tables, two concentration corners, each with two individual desks, and an enclosed phone booth. This offers various options for studying or working, either standing or sitting, in a sound-insulated environment.

Phone booth

The Ahrend Qabin Call is the ideal place to study with focus or make a (video) call. Use the control panel inside the pod to adjust the ventilation and lighting to your preference. Please see the brochure on the project website for more information.

We have carefully considered the layout of this space and therefore kindly ask that you leave the furniture in this space arranged as it is
